

Divorce Fees

For undefended Divorce

KWW offers a fixed-fee of £1250 inclusive of VAT and Court fees of £550, which includes the cost of obtaining the Decree Absolute

If you are bringing the divorce it is open to you to obtain an Order for costs against your spouse, and further advice can be given about this.

In the unlikely event your spouse defends the proceedings or files a Cross Petition (seeking a cross divorce against you), the procedure becomes more complex and cannot be carried out on a fixed fee basis and an estimate of costs will be given.

Fixed Fee Initial Consultation

We offer a fixed fee of £120 inclusive of VAT for a one-hour initial consultation.

Other Options on Fees

We also offer other payment options, depending on your requirements and financial circumstances. These include:

1. The option to defer payment from any lump sum you receive by way of financial settlement
2. Pay as you go advice where you are acting as a litigant in person (in this case we would expect payment at the point of providing the advice, and would not go on record as acting for you)
3. Fixed fees also available to prepare terms of consent order for a financial settlement on divorce, pre-nuptial agreement, co-habitation agreement and child contact agreements.
